Using Photoshop's Basic Functions Your first step to editing photos in Photoshop is to begin with one of the basic tools provided with the program—in particular, one of the tools that create layer masks. A `_layer mask_` is a special layer, called a `_mask_`, that you overlay on top of a raster image to mask out areas of the photo in which you want to keep certain parts of the image visible. Then, once you've masked out the areas you want to keep, you can edit them as you please. * **Background***. In addition to choosing a color for the default Photoshop background, you can open a blank photo document and save it as a Photoshop file. This saves time when you want to open a project in Photoshop without starting with a basic document. It's easy to customize the size of this tool by moving the slider on the Options bar. Choose Edit→Background→Clear. * **Layers***. To work with your photo, first create a new document.

Alternatively, you can open a photo and work directly on it, as explained in the next section. (Creating a new document is simpler if you're taking photos with your camera and want to share them via the Web or on your computer without having to work with large files, as explained in Chapter 11.) * **Layer Masks** *. Create a new layer called something like Layer 1. On this new layer, click the three dots at the top of the Layers palette to open the Layers panel (see Figure 2-6 or a white square").) This panel

David Fucilla has an exhaustive list of the four teams most likely to win in the Champions League this season, and Arsenal are one of them. On a cold and windy Champions League night in Cologne, Arsenal made history. Not only did they make the biggest comeback in Champions League history, but they did it in style, sweeping aside Wolfsburg 5-1 and putting Liverpool and Bayern Munich firmly in their places. On this day, we take a look back at some of the moments Arsene Wenger's side have pulled off in the Champions League to take us through all the dizzying ups and downs in this historic season. 2014-15 Bayern Munich 1-2 Arsenal After their drubbing in the 2014 final in Kiev, Arsenal returned to defend their reputation as European champions. With a 3-2 aggregate win over the champions-elect Bayern, they went back to Germany to redeem themselves. Granit Xhaka opened the scoring in the first half, with Harry Kane doubling the lead just after half-time. The Swiss international went on to score a hat-trick in this Champions League final. Arsenal had made it to the final without losing a single game. This was their first ever Champions League final, but this was also a success for Wenger, whose side won their fifth trophy in this competition and his first since 2005.

2016-17 Man City 0-1 Arsenal In a tense semi-final against Manchester City, Arsenal were down to 10 men in the final minutes, losing a crucial penalty after Cech saved Raheem Sterling's attempt. Samir Nasri saved their blushes with the winner in extra time. Laurent Koscielny pulled off a spectacular save to deny David Silva's goalbound effort in the second half, and Cech denied City a late equaliser. This is perhaps the closest Arsenal have ever come to beating Guardiola's side in the competition. If there is a tournament where Arsenal are stronger than City, it is this one. Pushing each other to be the best team in England, the two sides would often get into fierce competitions for the Premier League title. They would only meet once in the Champions League, and the result was a classic. Arsenal took the game to Barcelona in a tight game, with Alexis Sanchez powering them to a deserved 2-0 win. This was the first time this

Thursday, July 14, 2007 Correction:
After the publication of this story, the Free Press reported that a telephone poll of the same people showed the candidates within an insignificant two points of each other, rather than in a virtual dead heat. Quote: "After the incident on July 4, everyone thought that there was going to be a split in the vote," said Susan Howndl, editor of The Campus Poster. "We thought that people would look at who the candidates were, and then cast their votes based on the integrity of the candidates. "We were able to show that there was no change in the race, based on our survey." of a recession, with the sub prime mortgage default, consumer debt, real estate value dropping, the auto industry, shipyard, tourism...banking, and others....we are nearing the peak of this boom. The economy will go into a free fall. Unemployment is reaching double digits this year. The stock market is at an all time high, and this will continue until the market begins to crash. Here is what I think will happen: 1. The stock market will crash and bottom first in late August, September, or early October. A real correction starts. 2. Banks will lose a huge amount of money. 3. Investment and real estate will go through the largest, if not the largest, correction in

U.S. History. Prices will crater in housing, retail and industrials. 4. The stock market will bottom out again at the end of February or March. When it bottoms out, what started on the bottom of 2007 will be extended another 10% and will be down about 30% from its highest point. Just so you understand the magnitude of this correction. 5. Having lived in this area for 18 years, the economy will not rebound quickly. People who have lost their jobs and/or houses will not be able to get new jobs and/or homes. 6. Unemployment will hit double digits by December of this year, it will continue to rise. It will be 10+% by the end of
