Prismata is the first architecture game for the Oculus Rift. The player can control the design elements of a building and design various levels of balconies, windows, and openings, with the aim of creating the perfect courtyard for their residence. With Prismata, rooms are crafted through a simple drag and drop system, which allows the player to create a complex layout using basic elements. The interface is designed with precision and intention, giving the player full control over their home without being overly complex. Prismata is a skill game, where the player must design the perfect "courtyard" for their residence, through a series of economical decisions. The player must play with the economy of their furniture, decorations, and light source, with all elements that have an impact on the amount of time it takes to craft the building. Travel through time with the family and discover a world full of surprises, puzzles and adventure in a 3D Platformer. In Prismata you must help the family, work and protect your home from various threats, and may even help them find their lost sister. Key Features: Discover the story of the Prismata family and the challenges they face by helping them progress through the game. The tiny little creatures known as Prismata are living a simple life at the Center for the Study of the Prismata, trying their best not to be noticed by the research, education, and public relations aspect of the Center. Little do they know that when they die, their soul will go to the Prismata Pause, a phenomenon that occurs when the residents of the Center die, and the Prismata will live on as a part of the Center, even after death. However, the Center's inhabitants who have died are not alone for long as they find themselves surrounded by strange Prismata, who are known as the Prismata Swans. These Prismata are trying to find their way home, but are pursued by the same beings who killed them. Help the Prismata in their journey to find a way home. In this award-winning puzzle game from Disney, Princess Fiona visits the Mushroom Kingdom to recruit its new head chef to help plan the upcoming royal wedding. Help prepare the best food for the biggest feast in kingdom history, inspired by the storybook classic, The Princess and the Pea. Available for iPad and iPhone. October is here and this October we have some Halloween Spooktaculars to share with you. Starting this weekend during our extended

rFactor games

There are several different ways to play rFactor:

- Single player: A player can be pointed to a map and its starting position.
- Multi-player with leader-board: A leader-board track is created for every map. Both players are connected and can play against each other.
- Multi-player without leader-board: Players enter the map without any leader-board. In this case one needs to visit a map multiple times and compare between different visits.
- Solo time: Players try to get the most kills in a time of e.g. one hour or several hours. If a car ran over another car you will instantly appear in the list of killed players.

rFactor Server

rFactor includes both a server and anti-cheat software. The server is free for all users.

rFactor server

In the server software the current (live) map is used. The server is able to handle multiple maps but a linked track has to be used instead of a new track for every map. If you have configured a track for one map the server automatically starts the car when the game started and just circles that map.
